MEETING OF THE MATERNAL ASSOCIATION .-The semi-annual meeting of the New-York City Maternal Association was held yesterday at 11 o'clock a. m., at No. 26 West Twenty-sixth-street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue. This society has been in existence about thirty years, and albas been in existence about thirty years, and although it embraces less than one hundred members, principally of the Presbyterian faith, it has never swerved from its original design. It was organized for the purpose of instructing mothers how to care for their children, and its members do not neglect the physical culture, while they seek the spiritual welfare of their children. They believe that next to the salvation of the soul, the salvation of the body is of the highest importance; hence they appeal to make a to care their children are sould fee in the salvation of the soul, the salvation of the body is of the highest importance; hence they appeal to make a to care their children are sould fee in the salvation of the soul, the salvation of the sold the salvation of the soul, the salvation of the soul the salvation of the soul the salvation of the soul that the salvation of the salvation of the soul that the salvation of the salvation of the soul that the sold the soul that the sold that the soul that the salvation of the so mothers to save their children not only from intemperance and other forms of vice, but to save them

I offer the following letters as being more filustrative worthy of the attention of buyers:

Dr. C. W. Grant — Deur Nir: Four years since you sent some of our citizens a number of your fine vices, and recommending the Delaware as superior to all others.

Last escaon it surpased all others and our people began to get an idea of a true grape—" sugary, vinous, and refreshing beyond measure." This season the Delawares have surpased sheats show surpased all others and our people began to get an idea of a true grape—" sugary, vinous, and refreshing beyond measure." This season the Delawares have surpased sheatselves. I have tried them with many persons. My leabells were pronounced good and after them the Catawhas were found to be excellent. Then for the Delaware—most excellent—such pure rich wine! Again, and the taste more fully perceives the wonderful mingling of flavors and a new sensation of delight.

Now try Isabella again—how flat and faxy! Surely these cannot be the kind that was tested before. Yes, the very same bunches. Try the Catawbs—that is also had satringent, large, coarse acid bullet at the center; foxy, too; more soon than awaret; a coarse, third-rate affair. Try Delaware again still better, and constantly giving more delight by its fine, and before unknown qualities.

Cencord and Hattford Prolific not to be tolerated, and Northerm Muscadine desetable. Try Eleingburg—that is rich and good, even by the side of the Delaware; but not so animating—privitual; no other grape is.

Last week at our Horttcultural Enthilition the show of grapes was very fine, but after taxing the Delaware alone was thought of or taked of, it had entered the heart by way of the paids.

When I desire to give something exquisite to my family.

was thought of treated to five something exquisite to my family when I desire to give something exquisite to my family hat we can all enjoy together, I think first of Delaware frapes and then of Music, and so I send all the way to New-Yerk for a Steinway Plane, and to Ione for fifty "first theire" Delaware Vines for a flowery row of one hundred feet and fifty more for a second row of extras.

Send soon as practicable.

Dr. C. W. GRANT-Dear Sir : Three years ago you me twelve Delaware vines for $50. I have managed these vines according to your directions, doing everything but the things with my own hands. They present an appearance as requiar and dressé as your own engravings, and I have had much enjoyment from them. Lest year I kept the fruit until February, and found it very retreshing to the last.

I have now one hundred p-unds from those twelve vines, laid up as you direct for Winter, and my vines have not everborns. I feel grateful, I know—boas ful perhaps. The vines lave our ear. for they antile upon me always.

With respect,

M. STARKWEATHER.

Dr. C. W. Grant—Dear Sir: The vines which I received of you three years since, are worth a journey to behold. Their burden of perfectly ripe fruit is incredible.

Delaware, though least of States, will not be little in grapes. Some of those that I got elsewhere are living, and some are not. A few have given a little inferior fruit; I have given them much attention, and they are worth nothing.
